PLATFORM ADOPTED BY DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

The Democratic party is needed. No party can serve Connecticut effectively in which a nomination is the equivalent of an election. The welfare of the State is assured only when the party in power knows it may lose its influence through intelligent criticism and opposition. Connecticut has needed that kind of criticism for many years and the Democratic party is in a position to offer it.

The Democratic party of Connecticut, under the leadership of Judge Simeon E. Baldwin, is prepared to defy the agencies of political corruption, to ask why the good of the greatest number should not be served and why the special interests should remain the concern of the General Assembly to the exclusion of the needs of the people. This means the return to the faith of the founders. It is time Connecticut returned to the recovery in death cases to $5,000 or any other arbitrary sum.

The Connecticut Democracy favors the enactment of a workingmen's compensation law for injuries.

We favor the re-establishment of local self-government in the State to the end that counties, towns and cities and boroughs may have the right to elect their own officers and regulate all matters of purely local interest; and we also favor a conservative modernizing of the Sunday law.

Assembly to the exclusion of the needs of the people. This means the return to the faith of the founders. It is time Connecticut returned to that simple but all-powerful faith.

The Republican party in the nation, and in the State, requires from this convention no extended comment. For 16 years it has had undisputed control of all branches of the government and has utterly failed to meet the problems of the hour. It is a party of large promise and small performance. Torn by internal dissensions, offering conflicting cures which are worse than the disease they contraity set out to cure, we have to offer (and it should be enough to justify a change in political leadership), a determined disposition to bring the government back to a safe, progressive, and sane policy.

We accuse the Republican party of a breach of faith to the nation in enacting a tariff law, but not such as it promised, by which duties were to be measured by the difference in the cost of production, but such as was best calculated to build up great fortunes for a fevored few.

We believe that an extension of the free list and a reduction in many of the rates professedly framed to secure protection to American produces, but really granted as the price of political support, would advance the prosperity of the mass of our people, without leading to any injustice to invested capital, or any reduction in the wages of employes.

The Democratic party of Connecticut reaffirms its conviction, inherited from Jefferson and Madison, and confirmed by the experience of a century that the prosperity of the country depends on maintaining the just balances of power between the States and the United States.

It views with apprehension the growing tendency of the Republican party to center power at Washington, and so to contract the sphere of local self-government.

(Special from United Press.) London, Oct. 3-If Dr. Frederick A Cook, the Arctic explorer, is in London, as recent cables to the United States declare him to be, he is doing an admirable job of self-effacement All London has been on the lookout since the announcement of his hiding in this city, but his retreat has not been penetrated.

Every man with a Vandyke beard, flowing moustache and well brushed hair, characteristic of Cook, is being stopped by amateur and professional Sherlock Holmes' and asked whether he is the man who said he found the North Pole. But all to no avail. No attic has been too squalid not cellar or sub-cellar too dark for the investigators, but the mystery is still undisclosed. A report that Cook had slipped away to Copenhagen to spend a few days with his old friend, the King of Denmark, is unconfirmed.
